Code of Ethics for check malpractice and plagiarism

Objective: To prevent plagiarism and malpractices

Introduction:

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is defined as presenting another person's work as one's own work. Presentation includes copying or reproducing it without the acknowledgement of the source. Plagiarism involves copying of data, words, statements, figures, equations, ideas, clauses, concepts, sentences, paragraphs or longer extracts from published or unpublished work (from the internet) that exceeds the boundaries of the legitimate cooperation without acknowledgement of the source. When it comes to our own work, always remember that creditating the work of others (including your advisors or our own previous work) is a critical part of the process. One should always place their work in the context of the advancement of that field and acknowledge the findings of others on which you have built your research.

Types of Plagiarism:

Negligent Plagiarism: Means innocently or carelessly presenting another person's work as one's without acknowledging the source. It arises from one's inadequate knowledge and competency in writing. It is also due to careless attitude resulting into non-compliance of standard verification procedures. In this type of plagiarism the degree of copying is not substantial.

Dishonest Plagiarism: Means knowingly and deliberately presenting another person's work as one's own work without acknowledging the source. It involves intentional copying of substantial proportions of the others work without written or unwritten permission and also without acknowledging the source.

Ethical Violations:

"The core work carried out by the student, faculty, staff and researcher shall be based on original ideas and shall be covered by Zero Tolerance Policy on Plagiarism. In case Plagiarism is established in the core work claimed then Plagiarism Disciplinary Authority (PDA) of the HEI shall impose maximum penalty. The core work shall include abstract, summary, hypothesis, observations, results, conclusions and recommendations.” (UGC)

Research Ethics:

Research ethics is an integral part of research; statements, tables and figures reproduced in a presentation, paper and/or report, require proper citation. Published work is protected by copyright law. If you are reproducing your work in another publication then copyright permission is necessary from earlier publisher.

Disciplinary action:

The Plagiarism Disciplinary Committee (PDC) comprising of four members mentioned below will ensure the presence of plagiarism in research work and the level of plagiarism. The PDC will submit the report after investigation and the recommendation on disciplinary action to be forced preferably within a period of 15 days from the date of complaint.

1. Principal: Chairman
2. Dean (R&D): Member Secretary
3. Respective Head of Department: Member
4. Subject Experts (2): Member
